FIRST OF THREE HOLE-IN-ONES IN A SINGLE MONTH $100,000 WINNER!

Sutton West, Ont., Canada – Call it luck. Call it skill. Call it.... well, unbelievable. While using a borrowed club, John Kubina recently won $100,000, paid for by Hole In One International, during a member-guest golf tournament at the Briar's Golf Club in Jackson Point. Kubina was one of six participants who qualified for the $100,000 golf shoot-out after winning a closest to the hole contest on the par-3 third hole.

Kubina won the shoot-out's tee spin giving him the first shot at the $100,000 prize on the 165-yard 18th hole. While Kubina didn't see the shot go in (he'd been tackled by the Briar Club's general manager, Frank Campanelli), he knew he'd won the big bucks when the 100+ crowd started yelling and leaping into the air.

According to Campanelli, who worked with Hole In One International to insure this event, "When it comes to golf events, I like to create an atmosphere. A shoot-out does this; it brings everyone together around one hole. I just didn't expect there to be a winner. The place just went nuts – there were hugs and high fives all around. No one's gonna remember the weather, the dinner, any of it.

"They're gonna remember that shot." Campanelli continued, "The claims process went a lot smoother than I expected. I don't know any insurance company where in less than a month you have your check. Hole In One International's turnaround was fantastic."

What really sets this story apart is that Kubina's $100,000 ace was just the first of three hole-in-ones he made over a 30-day period last summer.

We've been insuring this event with Hole In One International for three years now, and we're already planning for next year's tournament." RV MOGUL WINS CHEVROLET CRUZE LUCK OF THE IRISH GOLF TOURNAMENT RAISES $50,000

Kailua Kona, Hawaii – This March, a lucky golfer found his very own pot of gold at the Hokuli'a Golf Club during the 9th Annual Luck of the Irish Golf Tournament. On his second hole of the day, Ken Schork, president of El Monte RV, hit a hole-in-one on the 205-yard Hole 13 winning himself a brand new Chevrolet Cruze, courtesy of De Luze Chevrolet, and paid for by Hole In One International.

According to Schork, whose mother was originally from Ireland, "I guess the luck of the Irish really was with me." While Schork was delighted to win a new set of wheels, his wasn't the only big prize insured by Hole In One International at this Hawaii Island United Way fundraiser this year. Tournament participants also had a shot at winning $10,000 ($5,000 for the United Way and $5,000 for the winner) in a 50/50 hole in one contest if they could ace the Par 3 Hole 11.

According to Dana Downing, Organizational Support with HIUW, the tournament raised an estimated $50,000 that will be used to support various organizations on the island, such as the American Red Cross Disaster Relief.

"We have been working with Hole In One International for several years now insuring this 50/50 hole in one contest at this tournament, as well as, one during the Mayor's Cup tournament in July. Hole In One International's customer service is excellent. This is our first win and it is very special to us. Everything went so smoothly," noted Downing.

Woman Wins Car, United Way Raises $575,000!

Lucky Envelope Promotion Used in Fundraising Raffle

Tunkhannock, Penn. – Janet MacKay won a 2011 Chevrolet Malibu, courtesy of Sherwood Chevrolet, and paid for by Hole In One International's sister company, Odds On Promotions, after she participated in the 2011 Wyoming County United Way fundraising campaign.

According to Wyoming County United Way's CEO Connie Pheiff, every one who made at least a $1 contribution to the campaign received an entry into the drawing, with additional entries offered for making larger contributions. MacKay, was randomly selected from almost 2,000 entries.

Having won the raffle, MacKay selected from 75 Lucky Envelopes, one of which would make her the big winner, the others held consolation prizes sponsored by other businesses. "When the paper said, 'You are a grand prize winner,' we were all dumbfounded," noted Roy King, general manager of Sherwood Chevrolet.

"When I drew the lucky winner, I felt like it was a gift from my mother," added MacKay, pointing out that the drawing took place the day after her mother had passed away.

The Wyoming County

United Way's 2011 campaign raised a total of $575,000. "The car raffle was one element of the larger campaign, but it certainly provided an additional incentive to participate. In fact, we're getting ready to do it again. Right after we gave away the car, I turned to Roy and said, 'You're giving me another one for next year, right?' This year it's a 2012 Chevrolet Cruze LS," explained Pheiff.

According to Nancy Tinna, the agent with Welch Associates, Inc., who helped put together this creative fundraising promotion, "We've used Hole In One International to insure golf tournaments for years. So when the United Way contacted us, we knew who to call. What surprised me was how simple the claims process was... I mean, really, it was so easy - it was scary easy. I kept waiting for the catch, but no, it really was just
